LITTLE BROWN JUG ORIGIN

The Little Brown Jug, contested between Michigan and Minnesota, originated in 1903. After a 6-6 tie, Michigan accidentally left behind a five-gallon jug it had brought for its water supply. Minnesota's equipment manager kept the jug, marking it with "Michigan Jug - Captured by Oscar." When Michigan requested its return, Minnesota's coach humorously said they'd have to win it back. In 1909, the teams agreed to make the jug the prize for the game's winner, creating a lasting tradition.
